Parents Voice Heated Objections to Removal of High School Students

Miami Trace, City Boards To Discuss Tuition Furore

The five members of the Miami Trace Local District Board of Education have agreed to meet next Wednesday with members of the Washington C. H. board to consider the matter of high school tuition students who were to be transferred to the Jeffersonville School this fall under present plans.

The Miami Trace Board agreed to the conference after nearly a hundred parents, most of them members of the Rural Parents Assn. and parents of former Washington C. H. High School students, voiced heated objections to withdrawing their children from Washington High School.

The parents appeared at a regular meeting of the Miami Trace board held Thursday night in Wilson School.

Taylor Groff, president of the Miami Trace board, told Ray C. French, one of the many spokesmen for the delegation of parents, that his board would be willing to consider a solution for the problem in consultation with the city board, although he said Miami Trace had committed itself financially after the city board declared this spring it no longer could accept nearly 200 tuition students because of over-enrollment.

The Miami Trace board had indicated in March that while the doors were closed to tuition students they were "not locked". The parents' group contended Thursday night that no bona fide effort has been made by the Miami Trace board to open the doors to tuition students who want to return to the city high school.

WHEN MEMBERS of the parents' delegation indicated they felt sure Washington High School would

NEW YORK (P)—Eleven-year-old Larry Gordon, disk jockey for a Cincinnati radio station, is back in the country after a European trip.

Gordon visited children's international summer camps in Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Austria, and sent back tape recordings of his visits. He said many children used sign language and "everyone got along together and communicated without speaking the same language." The camps are designed to promote international understanding.

I take it that most of you folks have heard of the famous "Penn Charter" executed March 4, 1681, whereby King Charles II of England gave to William Penn and associates some 45,000 square miles of land which is now the state of Pennsylvania.

It is one of the famous documents of history and highly reverend by Pennsylvanians generally.

A few days ago the famous charter was "lost" for a short time, until we finally located it in the Archives Room of the large Education Building in the Pennsylvania state office group at Harrisburg, Pa.

It all came about when we went into the Pennsylvania State Museum, and during a conference with the director, Dr. Stevens, whom we had met at the Ohio State Museum several years ago, we asked to see the Penn Charter.

He informed us that it was housed in the Education Building, so we passed through the beautiful capital building (with its million dollars in gold leaf spread hither and yon) and walked to the Education Building.

The first two people at the information desks said the Penn Charter was not in the building, and a third informant said that while she did not think it was there it might be in the Archives Department and it was there we found it. The man in charge brought the huge document (it covers five large sheets of parchment and is signed and sealed as one might expect) from the vault where it is now kept.

The picture of King Charles II and many other pictures and designs form the margin of the historic charter which is now rarely seen.

Lausche Now Concentrating On His Race for U. S. Senate

CHICAGO (P)—It's Lausche-for-senator today.

That role remains in the November election for Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who got 5½ Ohio votes for the presidential nomination at the Democratic National Convention yesterday.

Ohio also contributed 52 votes to Adlai E. Stevenson's renomination total and gave New York Gov. Averell Harriman one-half vote.

The Buckeye State's 70-member delegation had 58 votes.

Long touted as a dark horse in pre-convention speculation, Lausche withdrew as Ohio's "favorite son" when Stevenson's sweep appeared.

That reluctant step denied Lausche the honor of having his name go before the convention as a contender for the nation's highest political office.

Lausche came to the convention with 54 pledged votes. But two delegates threatened at the start to bolt to Stevenson and urged him to release them all. Four unpledged anti-Lausche delegates defected early for Stevenson.

LAUSCHE PHONED his decision to delegate leaders after Stevenson's nomination touched off a rousing demonstration in Convention Hall. He acted while watching the televised proceedings in his downtown hotel.

A few Ohioans joined the Stevenson bandwagon parade. Others accept at least a part of the tuition students, the other four Miami Trace board members — Richard Snyder, Gordon Cowdry, J. Herbert Perrill and Robert Owens—individually expressed their willingness to discuss the situation with the city board.

The hour and place of the meeting will be announced later.

Last night's session, punctuated by suggestions from the floor that the entire Miami Trace board resign, was in the form of a series of questions posed by members of the parents' group.

Members of the board were unanimous in indicating their interest in the parents' point of view, although it appeared to be the consensus of opinion from the floor that the wishes of parents of tuition students living in the Miami Trace District had been ignored.

Owens told the assembled parents that "our first obligation as a board is to take care of the students in our district, and I don't see how we can change our plans this year."

Snyder put it this way: "The Washington C. H. board was our landlord. We were their tenants, and we had to get out when they said the doors were closed to tuition students."

GROFF ADDED that Miami Trace had to "act fast" when it learned of the city board action and that teachers were hired and supplies purchased to meet the situation. "We had to make a decision for several thousand people in our district — not just for this group," Groff said.

Told that the Rural Parents group represented at least 1,500 people, Groff answered that "we must think of the entire district. The smaller schools can't operate alone under the School Foundation Program."

Members of the parents' delegation pointed out that Miami Trace has made no financial expenditures which would necessarily prove wasteful if the tuition students were returned to the city school. They cited the fact that no order has been signed for school buses; that Bookwalter School has been redecorated in preparation for the fall term but that this had been needed for years; and they said that even though Miami Trace had placed additional teachers under contract, they felt sure that in an overall solution to the problem the Washington C. H. board could take over the Miami Trace teacher commitments.

Victor Riesel Acid-Thrower Dead; 2 Ex-Cons Questioned

WASHINGTON (P)—The FBI to-day arrested two ex-convicts in connection with the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The FBI said the actual acid-thrower is dead.

The announcement said FBI agents had developed evidence that the acid was thrown into the face of Riesel in New York City on April 5 by Abraham Telvi whose body, with a bullet hole in the back of the head, was found on a Lower East Side street in New York on July 28.

Telvi, 22, and a resident of Brooklyn, had a police record.

The acid attack of Riesel occurred at a time when he was actively cooperating with New York U. S. Dist. Atty. Paul Williams in a labor racketeering probe.

The two men taken into custody in New York today, alleged to have acted in concert with Telvi, were charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice.

They were identified by the FBI as Joseph Peter Carlini, 42, arrested at his home, and Gondolfo Miranti, 37.

THE FBI declined to say if any progress had been made toward a solution of Telvi's slaying.

Riesel, who was carrying on a crusade against labor racketeers, was assaulted on the street shortly after leaving a cafe.

The conspiracy charge against Miranti alleged he was in the cafe shortly before Riesel left.

The FBI said that Carlini, using the name Joseph Pilo, "met his co-conspirator, Abe Telvi in New York City and drove him to a hideout in the vicinity of Youngstown, Ohio, a few weeks after the acid throwing."

The federal obstruction law provides penalties up to five years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. In addition, conspiracy to violate this law is punishable also by five years, a $10,000 fine, or both.

Man Shoots 2 Cops, Then Kills Himself

COLUMBUS (P)—Two Columbus policemen were shot today by a man who later killed himself when he was trapped.

The dead man was identified as Benjamin O. Franklin, 26, by Police Chief George W. Scholer who personally organized the police cordon to trap the gun wielder.

Three tear gas shells were fired into the house in an attempt to chase him out.

Patrolman Thomas E. Webb, 31, was rescued from the house where the shootings took place. He had been shot in the forehead and the bullet lodged in his brain. His condition was critical.

Patrolman Melvin M. Grimm, 25, was shot in the neck. His condition was fair.

Police were summoned to a two-story brick house on the East Side by a call for help.

The gunman killed himself just after Lt. Alfred Lashley climbed a stepladder and threw a tear gas grenade into the room in which he was trapped, police reported.

Police got word of the shooting from two delivery men who said they heard shots and saw Grimm stagger out calling:

"Help, help, call the police."

They said Grimm then collapsed on the front steps.

The deliverymen ran to Grimm's aid, carried him across the street and placed him behind his police cruiser. Then one took the cruiser's radio and called help.

Police said Franklin killed himself with Grimm's revolver after he had wrested it from Grimm and used it on the two policemen.

Police said Franklin went to the home of his estranged wife, apparently to seek a reconciliation.

They reported that a sister of Franklin's wife had called headquarters to say Franklin intended killing his wife.

Lausche's action scrapped a nominating speech prepared for delivery by Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo as part of the convention's televised proceedings.

DiSalle, former President Truman's OPA price controller, is the presidential nominee for governor.

Lausche is the U. S. senatorial nominee.

The governor has declared he would not accept the vice presidential nomination if it should unexpectedly come his way.

Delegation leaders indicated they would go along with the convention choice for that office.

LAUSCHE PHONED his decision to delegate leaders after Stevenson's nomination touched off a rousing demonstration in Convention Hall. He acted while watching the televised proceedings in his downtown hotel.

French Offer New Plan For Suez Control

Pineau Would Admit Egypt 'Owns' Canal; Dickerling Continues

LONDON (P)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau proposed today that the Suez Canal be managed by an international authority, but with Egypt acknowledged as the canal's owner.

Egyptian officials, objecting to a Western plan advanced yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles for international control, were dickerling behind the scenes with Indians and Russians to block it as the Frenchman expressed his views.

"We consider that there are points on which agreement should be easily reached although they imply sacrifices for some, including ourselves," Pineau told the 22-nation Suez conference.

Pineau proposed the Egyptian government should sign a treaty handing its management to an international authority. He said the principal countries using the canal and interested in it, including Egypt, should be represented on the ruling body of the authority.

He said the French government would accept association of this body with the United Nations. This was suggested by Dulles but Pineau said the authority should make no profits and excess receipts should go to Egypt after provision for compensation of the company.

The Egyptians said Dulles spoke in a moderate tone, but declared Egypt could not go along with any plan to take control of the canal out of her hands. Dulles proposed that Egypt be a member of the control board, which would be linked to the United Nations.

THE EGYPTIAN reaction was not unexpected, but the West hoped to marshal enough world opinion behind its stand to force the Egyptians eventually to agree. Sweden and Portugal promptly expressed support for the plan drawn by the Western Big Three.

Russia has supported Egypt's July 26 nationalization of the Suez Canal Co. and demanded a much-expanded conference to include all Arab nations and Communist countries.

The 22-nation London parley can of course be of definite value," Moscow radio said, but only if it leads to a "truly international conference or some other international procedure to express support for the plan drawn by the Western Big Three."

Last night's landslide nomination of Stevenson, whom he bitterly opposed, left Truman with only a trace of the power he once wielded in the Democratic party.

TRUMAN did not express a choice for Democratic nominee for vice president. He said the choice was not up to him.

He said he stands ready to do whatever is asked of him in the way of campaigning.

But the lack of attention he is getting now is in strong contrast to the way he attracted party leaders when he arrived here.

Truman had gone all out for the New York governor and organized a drive to stop Stevenson. He had some harsh things to say about Stevenson's fighting qualities, and Stevenson's espousal of moderation.

Last night, the convention gave Stevenson the nomination by acclamation and Truman was shorn of all but his past glories.

Truman's assertion that Stevenson can't win next November and nine Southern and border states that went Democratic four years ago is bound to be used enthusiastically by the Republicans.

But some of Stevenson's associates believe they saw a net gain.

'Old Iron Pots' Said No Defense

ST. LOUIS (P)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has ruled that "old iron bags and old iron pots" aren't an adequate defense in an income tax case.

The ruling came Thursday as the court affirmed the sentence of Louis (Red) Smith, an ex-convict who was sentenced to one year and one day and fined $2,000 in 1955 for tax evasion.

Smith, who has been free under an appeal bond, was convicted by a jury of evading $9,976 in taxes in 1947. During the trial a government agent said Smith on one occasion explained his money came "from an old mail bag" and later remarked "Let's say I dug it up in an old iron pot."

CHICAGO (P)—Less than five months ago Adlai E. Stevenson was on the floor politically. He got up and went on to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

And he did it against determined opposition.

In the March 20 Minnesota primary Stevenson was flattened unexpectedly by Sen. Estes Kefauver, then his chief rival.

The clobbering raised the question: Should he fight or quit?

He chose to fight. Associates in Stevenson's Chicago headquarters said the decision was his own. He went back to the primary circuit, but with altered tactics.

First, he almost stopped running and started walking.

In Minnesota he had hustled from platform to platform. He had paused on each to read a prepared speech; and then, with a wave of his arm, he hurried off to his next appearance.

Thereafter, in Oregon, Florida, California and other points, he made some formal addresses.

But he also chattered informally with folks on streets and in squares. And he hunkered down in a Midwestern farmyard and listened to corn and hog growers.

He shook hands by the hundreds, doffed outlandish hats. In general, he went through customs to enter the political promised land.

After Minnesota, Stevenson acted less like an egghead from Princeton and Chicago's society precincts, and more like a friendly fellow from Libertyville, Ill.

books and extra seats had been purchased for Jeffersonville High School, "this is of small moment when compared with the return of our children to the high school of their choice."

Kenneth Walters, Jeffersonville, charged that "our children are being kicked out of their own school to put others in—and they don't want in." Walters was referring to transfer of a part of the Jeffersonville pupils to Bookwalter in order to make room for other Miami Trace pupils at Jeffersonville.

ASKED WHY a $1,652,500 bond issue should be approved in order to build a new high school three miles from Washington C. H., Groff answered that schools at Jeffersonville, Madison Mills, Good Hope, and Bloomingburg could not exist by themselves.

James McWilliams, who on June 1 had petitioned transfer of his home site immediately adjoining the city to the city school district, asked why the county and Miami Trace boards had turned down his request. Groff answered that the Miami Trace board had no power of transferring territory and declared that the matter had never come before the district board.

In the matter of three other tracts recently approved for annexation to the city, Groff said that transfer of these properties to the city school district is up to the state Board of Education and that a meeting has been arranged at which all parties concerned will be represented.

(It was announced Aug. 8 after a joint meeting of Miami Trace and Fayette County boards of education that there will be no transfers of property from Miami Trace district to any other district until after the November election. It was announced at that time that any requests for transfer after Nov. 8 will be considered in the light of success or failure of the Miami Trace bond issue proposal.)

The board was asked why it objected to an independent survey of Fayette County school problems as a whole. It was the board's position that an adequate survey already has been made.

AFTER THE general roundtable discussion, the Miami Trace board employed, but did not assign Mrs. Margaret Boop, Mrs. Avanelle Zimmerman and Mrs. Kathryn Rittenhour as teachers in the district schools.

Martin Campbell and Frank Baumeister were employed as janitors.

In the Shelburne, Vt., museum of early American history, there is probably the largest existing collection of cigar store wooden Indians.

Harvey Crow Ordered Disbarred
Second Time within 15 Months

URBANA — For the second time within 15 months, Harvey Crow, Cleveland, and formerly of Urbana, has been disbarred from practicing law in Ohio on grounds of being guilty of misconduct in his office as an attorney at law.

The disbarment order was issued following a lengthy session here Thursday, when Judges John P. Case, Washington C. H.; Charles Kirk, Wilmington, and Paul Dull, Celina, who previously had issued the disbarment order, took up a motion which Crow had filed for findings of fact and conclusions of law. The disbarment order is identical to the disbarment order issued May 13, 1955, following a lengthy hearing of 11 specifications filed against Crow in the Champaign County Court. The order was to become effective as of Friday.

He was found guilty on four of the 11 specifications. When he was originally found guilty and the disbarment order issued by Judges Case, Kirk and Dulls, he obtained a stay of execution from the court of appeals and continued practice.

THE COURT OF APPEALS held the disbarment void and remanded the case back to the three-judge court.

Later the committee which had filed the charges, filed a motion in the Ohio Supreme Court seeking review of the case but the motion was denied.

Crow at one time was refused permission to try a case before Judge John P. Case here after he had obtained a stay of execution.

He still has a number of cases pending in the local courts, chiefly in Municipal Court here, one of which is scheduled to come up Tuesday of next week.

Judge C. B. McRae of Municipal Court set bonds at $3,500 apiece for Louis Zook Sr., 47, of Sawyerwood; his son, Louis Jr., 19, and his son-in-law, Edward Harshbarger, 23. Another son, Charles, 16, was detained by juvenile authorities.

Kenneth Walters, Jeffersonville, charged that "our children are being kicked out of their own school to put others in—and they don't want in." Walters was referring to transfer of a part of the Jeffersonville pupils to Bookwalter in order to make room for other Miami Trace pupils at Jeffersonville.

ASKED WHY a $1,552,500 bond issue should be approved in order to build a new high school three miles from Washington C. H., Groff answered that schools at Jeffersonville, Madison Mills, Good Hope, and Bloomingburg could not exist by themselves.

James McWilliams, who on June 1 had petitioned transfer of his home site immediately adjoining the city to the city school district, asked why the county and Miami Trace boards had turned down his request. Groff answered that the Miami Trace board had no power of transferring territory and declared that the matter had never come before the district board.

In the matter of three other tracts recently approved for annexation to the city, Groff said that transfer of these properties to the city school district is up to the state Board of Education and that a meeting has been arranged at which all parties concerned will be represented.

It was announced Aug. 8 after a joint meeting of Miami Trace and Fayette County boards of education that there will be no further transfers of property from Miami Trace district to any other district until after the November election. It was announced at that time that any requests for transfer after Nov. 8 will be considered in the light of success or failure of the Miami Trace bond issue proposal.

The board was asked why it objected to an independent survey of Fayette County school problems as a whole. It was the board's position that an adequate survey already has been made.

AFTER THE general roundtable discussion, the Miami Trace board employed, but did not assign Mrs. Margaret Boop, Mrs. Avanelle Zimmerman and Mrs. Kathryn Rutherford as teachers in the district schools.

Martin Campbell and Frank Baumeister were employed as janitors.

URBANA — For the second time within 15 months, Harvey Crow, Cleveland, and formerly of Urbana, has been disbarred from practicing law in Ohio on grounds of being guilty of misconduct in his office as an attorney at law.

The disbarment order was issued following a lengthy session here Thursday, when Judges John P. Case, Washington C. H.; Charles Kirk, Wilmington, and Paul Dull, Celina, who previously had issued the disbarment order, took up a motion which Crow had filed for findings of fact and conclusions of law. The disbarment order is identical to the disbarment order issued May 13, 1955, following a lengthy hearing of 11 specifications filed against Crow in the Champaign County Court. The order was to become effective as of Friday.

He was found guilty on four of the 11 specifications. When he was originally found guilty and the disbarment order issued by Judges Case, Kirk and Dull, he obtained a stay of execution from the court of appeals and continued practice.

THE COURT OF APPEALS held the disbarment void and remanded the case back to the three-judge court.

Later the committee which had filed the charges, filed a motion in the Ohio Supreme Court seeking review of the case but the motion was denied.

The first charge of which he was found guilty was that in a divorce case in which he represented Edith Butcher, whose husband had sued her for divorce, Crow advised her to make a fictitious reconciliation with her husband for purpose of obtaining dismissal of the action in Tuscarawas County and filing a divorce action on her part in Champaign County, thereby effecting a change of jurisdiction. Also for other acts in connection with the case, including unlawfully obtaining a wallet containing money, valuable documents, and car keys, property of Elmer H. Butcher, and procuring Butcher's signature to a separation and property agreement with his wife.

THE SECOND specification was that in January, 1952, while Crow was attorney for Howard Heck in a divorce action against Leah Heck he called upon Leah Heck, represented himself to be an insurance adjuster, and obtained the signature of Leah Heck to the form of an endorsement on a check for insurance covering fire loss of the Heck home before revealing his identity and advising her that he represented her husband, and was prepared to file divorce proceedings against her and endeavored to persuade her not to contest the action.

The third specification (No. 5) of which he was found guilty was that during 1952 immediately prior to the court case of Chester Boitnott against Mary Boitnott in the Champaign County court, Crow approached a witness in the case, and requested her to testify to certain matters, and when she refused, threatened her with exposure of alleged misconduct on her part.

HE WAS ALSO found guilty of specification No. 7 in the list, in which he was charged with obtaining $100 from one Eugene Fields for the purpose of posting bond in the Urbana Municipal Court on be-

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight 300 pion in ear corn, including yellow and white hybrids of various maturities, dry sweet corn, pop corn, and shelled corn, including yellow and white or any hybrid or variety.

In addition, he has gained 19 awards in other classes, 41 awards in vegetables of all sorts, 15 trophies in grain and plant material, covering wheat, oats, soy beans, clover, alfalfa, brome grass, forage grass, buckwheat and tobacco and 7 awards in the open pollinated corn.

Since then Kirk said he has watched the changes in grains—all have stiffer stalks, making them easier to gather and less liable to break in a wind storm.

They are more resistant to disease and insects, and are superior in yield, Kirk said.

"Recommended seed costs more but it's worth it. I use the best and get 95 bushels of corn to an acre... over the years since the introduction of hybrids, yield has increased generally throughout the country from 25 to 50 per cent."

A Kirk specialty is tender "improved" sweet corn. He said he plants the recommended varieties of that delicacy and is one of the pioneers in growing hybrids.

Kirk, during his 35 years of exhibiting at the Ohio State Fair, has accumulated an enormous collection of trophies. His large house on his 355 acre farm is filled with silver cups, pitchers, platters and trophies and there are enough ribbons to make cushions and quilts for the whole neighborhood.

Last year, in the agriculture-farm products classes, Kirk won 84 awards. He was grand champion.

Chicken, Ham, Beef Featured in Markets

(By The Associated Press)

Chicken, ham, roast beef and just about any vegetable you can think of will be attractively priced in many food markets across the nation this weekend.

Beef seems more likely to be a case of featuring roasts and steaks before prices go up again. Retail prices were slightly higher in widely scattered sections this week.

Two months ago, choice grade bounced back to the highest level since April of last year.

Potatoes have come down from their dizzy price peaks of a month ago, and produce men say they'll continue to do so.

Onions also have become more attractive in price.

Attractive prices at the vegetable counters stem from a bountiful harvest, estimated a t 4 per cent above last year by Department of Agriculture experts. They expect the tomato crop to be 16 per cent above last year; celery, 18 per cent; lettuce and cucumbers, 8 per cent and cauliflower, sweet corn and beets will be a bit less plentiful, however.

Where and How Shall We Cut Big Government

Those who watch Congress giving way before the steady demands of various pressure groups for expanding the processes of our national government, soon are going to find necessary a stout campaign requiring a pruning operation in federal government affairs which probably will be painful dimensions.

Irrespective of what merit they may have, the growing size of government installations, starting back in the New Deal days has reached a point where there soon must be positive demands to bring about slashing reductions.

During the last fiscal year which ended June 30, the federal government had a budget surplus of something more than a $1,750,000,000. That seemed a fine start because it was the first time federal revenues have exceeded expenditures since 1951, and only the fourth time since 1930.

Even so modest a surplus as the recent one is gratifying. It would be a great deal more so had it been the result of a real economy program. It was not.

Actually, spending in the 1956 fiscal year was about $5 billion greater than initial estimates. The surplus came from a combination of two factors — a record business boom, coupled with high tax rates. A comparatively mild downturn in business activity could quickly wipe out a surplus and replace it with a deficit.

The moral is that the need for economy in government grows more, not less, acute. We have a splendid blueprint in the Hoover Commission reports. These constitute the most exhaustive and most authoritative studies of the federal government's financial and spending set-up ever made. They are entirely non-partisan, the various Task Forces having been balanced with membership drawn from both the major parties. They go into every phase of government operation — paper work, budgetary practices, personnel, procurement, property management, government business enterprises, and so on. Total savings, if all recommendations were followed, would run to many billions a year.

Some of the Hoover proposals have been put into effect. Many others — including the most important — have not. These should have high priority on the agenda when Congress convenes again.

One good place to start slashing, many students of government think, would be in taking government out of the manufacturing business and other operations that actually are not a part of government.

A recent inventory lists 19,321 government operated functions with a capital asset value of some 3 billion dollars and more than 260,000 civilian employees engaged in manufacturing enterprises of one kind or another. 450 other government-owned, but contractor-operated activities had capital assets of 9 billions.

Uncle Sam is engaged in such diverse occupations as the insurance business, real estate business, finance, retail trade, agriculture, forestry, fisheries, mining, wholesaling, and manufacturing, as well as the regular functions performed by the Post Office. Our Defense Department is concerned with livestock farms, plumbing, heating, air conditioning, painting, paper hanging, roofing and sheet metal work, baking bread, making mattresses and bed springs, running barber shops, golf courses, and the provision of legal services.

By Hal Boyle

Perhaps he simply wanted to spare the feelings of those who brag about their thick crop of hair.

But the blunt truth is that, generally speaking, the thing that makes the brain grow is the intellectual capacity centers, in one way like a muscle. It grows with use.

This does leave the problem of why more men than women grow bald. Dr. Young has an answer for this, too. He explains that women generally have a thicker layer of fat in most areas of their body, including the scalp.

The more fat a man or woman has in that overhead arch between his ears, therefore, the less likely he is to grow bald, particularly if his brain doesn't grow much as he matures.

Dr. Young didn't dwell on what cause our brains to expand as we grow older.

By George Sokolsky

the second; then they like to argue for the presidency at either convention always becomes "the people's choice," according to the campaign speeches.

The people, however, have nothing to do with nominations.

That is a politician's function. Politicians hope and pray that the people will vote for their candidate, but they do not always nominate a man to elect him.

Sometimes, a win is not in the cards, but a full ticket must be placed before the voters anyhow. In some states, it is essential to do that to keep the party's name on the ballot.

The convention is pandemonium. It is not intended to be anything else. The delegates sit in an overhated smoky atmosphere where there is plenty of talk, laughter, excitement and noise. Bands blare on brass to stir excitement and "young" Republicans or Democrats, whichever it may be, are given balcony seats to cheer and yell and create "enthusiasm."

There is therefore no deliberation on the convention floor as none is possible. The platform committee comes closest to being a deliberative group. Whatever deals have to be made are developed in the private hotel rooms of the various leaders or in the unregistered hide-aways which are often far from their hotel suites. Each delegation has a headquarters but few deals are made in such places because they are too public.

What is meant by a deal? Each candidate makes an effort to come to the convention with as many delegates pledged to him as he can possibly get. But astute politicians, national committeemen and state committee chairmen and such try to avoid making hard and fast arrangements.

For Want of Dime, $200 Lost to Thug

YAKIMA, Wash. (UPI) — A thug stuck up a tavern here last night. As he was concentrating on the bartender, one of the patrons ducked down behind the bar and inched his way toward a pay telephone.

Unnoticed by the thug, the patron fished in his pocket for a coin to phone police. He only had a nickel. Pay phones require a dime.

The holdup man got $200.

What is the most commonly used diagnostic instrument in the world? Bet you can't guess, although you probably have one in your home right now.

It is the fever thermometer, of course. No American home should be without this tiny, but highly important, medical tool.

Taking a Temperature

Now all of you, I hope, know how to take a temperature. It's the easiest thing in the world. Just place the thermometer under the tongue of the patient for three minutes.

But there are a few other things you should know about thermometers and temperature taking.

For one thing, don't take anyone's temperature for at least half an hour after eating or drinking hot or cold foods, exercising or smoking. These activities can throw the reading way off.

Sterilizing Instrument

Sterilizing a thermometer is very important, too. But it is amazing how many persons either don't know how to sterilize one or just don't bother.

First, wash the instrument in warm water (less than 100 degrees) with soap. Then dip it into alcohol before and after using.

And don't forget to "shake down" the thermometer before using it. This is necessary because thermometers are built with a small obstruction near the end which prevents the mercury from sliding down immediately after you take it from the mouth.

To Lower Mercury

The instrument should be snapped downward sharply several times while holding the end opposite the mercury container between the thumb and forefinger. Continue shaking it until the mercury is well below the 98.6 degree mark.

Incidentally, there's now a thermometer on the market which does not require this shaking down process. By simply whirling the case and thermom-

Answer: Brain cells deteriorate because of lack of circulation, as may occur with hardening of the arteries or extreme old age. Certain chemical and drugs can be harmful to brain cells; certain diseases such as syphilis also can harm them.

Where and How Shall We Cut Big Government

Those who watch Congress giving way before the steady demands of various pressure groups for expanding the processes of our national government, soon are going to find necessary a stout campaign requiring a pruning operation in federal government affairs which probably will be painful dimensions.

Irrespective of what merit they may have, the growing size of government installations, starting back in the New Deal days has reached a point where there soon should be positive demands to bring about slashing reductions.

During the last fiscal year which ended June 30, the federal government had a budget surplus of something more than $1,750,000,000. That seemed a fine start because it was the first time federal revenues have exceeded expenditures since 1951, and only the fourth time since 1930.

Even so modest a surplus as the recent one is gratifying. It would be a great deal more so had it been the result of a real economy program. It was not.

Actually, spending in the 1956 fiscal year was about $5 billion greater than initial estimates. The surplus came from a combination of two factors — a record business boom, coupled with high tax rates. A comparatively mild downturn in business activity could quickly wipe out a surplus and replace it with a deficit.

The moral is that the need for economy in government grows more, not less, acute. We have a splendid blueprint in the Hoover Commission reports. These constitute the most exhaustive and most authoritative studies of the federal government's financial and spending set-up ever made. They are entirely non-partisan, the various Task Forces having been balanced with membership drawn from both the major parties. They go into every phase of government operation — paper work, budgetary practices, personnel, procurement, property management, government business enterprises, and so on. Total savings, if all recommendations were followed, would run to many billions a year.

Some of the Hoover proposals have been put into effect. Many others — including the most important — have not. These should have high priority on the agenda when Congress convenes again.

One good place to start slashing, many students of government think, would be in taking government out of the manufacturing business and other operations that actually are not a part of government.

A recent inventory lists 19,321 government operated functions with a capital asset value of some 3 billion dollars and more than 260,000 civilian employees engaged in manufacturing enterprises of one kind or another. 450 other government-owned, but contractor-operated activities had capital assets of 9 billions.

Uncle Sam is engaged in such diverse occupations as the insurance business, real estate business, finance, retail trade, agriculture, forestry, fisheries, mining, wholesaling, and manufacturing, as well as the regular functions performed by the Post Office. Our Defense Department is concerned with livestock farms, plumbing, heating, air conditioning, painting, paper hanging, roofing and sheet metal work, baking bread, making mattresses and bed springs, running barber shops, golf courses, and the provision of legal services.

By Hal Boyle

Perhaps he simply wanted to spare the feelings of those who brag about their thick crop of hair.

But the blunt truth is that, generally speaking, the thing that makes the brain grow is the intellectual capacity centers, is in one way like a muscle. It grows with use.

A happy-go-lucky laborer may wear the same hat size all his life. A lawyer, whose brains earn him his living, is likely to need a larger hat at 50 than he did at 20. He is more likely to be bald also.

The conclusion seems inescapable (at least it does to us baldies) that any many of middle age he meets with a full crop of hair either has ducked his fair share of thinking, or is carrying an extraordinary load of blubber under his thatch.

Simple, isn't it?

This does leave the problem of why more men than women grow bald. Dr. Young has an answer for this, too. He explains that women generally have a thicker layer of fat in most areas of their body, including the scalp.

The more fat a man or woman has in that overhead arch between his ears, therefore, the less likely he is to grow bald, particularly if his brain doesn't grow much as he matures.

Dr. Young didn't dwell on what causes our brains to expand as we grow older.

It works this way, he says:

Convention Is Pure Pandemonium

Of course, whoever is nominated for the presidency at either convention always becomes "the people's choice," according to the campaign speeches.

The people, however, have nothing to do with nominations.

That is a politician's function. Politicians hope and pray that the people will vote for their candidate, but they do not always nominate a man to elect him.

Sometimes, a win is not in the cards, but a full ticket must be placed before the voters anyhow. In some states, it is essential to do that to keep the party's name on the ballot.

There is therefore no deliberation on the convention floor as none is possible. The platform committee comes closest to being a deliberative group. Whatever deals have to be made are developed in the private hotel rooms of the various leaders or in the unregistered hide-aways which are often far from their hotel suites. Each delegation has a headquarters but few deals are made in such places because they are too public.

What is meant by a deal?

Each candidate makes an effort to come to the convention with as many delegates pledged to him as he can possibly get. But astute politicians, national committeemen and state committee chairmen and such try to avoid making hard and fast arrangements.

They prefer, if they can manage it, to have a "favorite son" for the first ballot and maybe the second; then they like to range a switch to someone who can be nominated.

This involves some consideration, not generally a money consideration, but political power, influence, patronage.

For instance, in 1952, both the Eisenhower and Taft people were after the California delegation. Eisenhower's managers offered the vice presidency to Richard Nixon and the next vacation on the Supreme Court bench to Governor Earl Warren. The Taft people were ready with similar offers if the California delegation would hold out in favor of Warren for president to the bitter end.

When a party is in office, and the president is ipso facto entitled to a second term and is willing, no deals need be or are made. But when men like the current crop of Democratic candidates seek office, deals have to be made. At this convention, one of Stevenson's major difficulties was bound to be that Truman was for Harriman because Truman's word is regarded in political circles as his bond.

Some politicians cannot be trusted. For instance, in the 1952 convention, Governor John Fine of Pennsylvania gave the impression to some friends of General Douglas MacArthur that he favored the general for president. These friends approached Robert A. Taft with the suggestion that he, Taft, withdraw in favor of General MacArthur. I was present when this conversation occurred. Taft said that before he would consider this proposal, he wanted evidence that MacArthur could get more votes than he could. Without consulting General MacArthur, his friends went out to corral Governor Fine, who, they said, could produce 30 votes that would turn the tide.

At 4 a.m., I was still waiting for these friends to find Governor Fine. He had vanished because he was no longer free to deliver even himself.

Farmers Said Slow In Asking Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only 400,000 of an estimated three million eligible farmers have applied for refunds on taxes paid on gasoline used on farms, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

This is the halfway point for filing refund claims for the tax paid during the first six months of 1956. The deadline for filing is Sept. 30.

A revenue spokesman said no figures were available on the amount of refunds paid the 400,000 who have filed. One source estimated the average might run around $10 each.

JUDGE THREATENED;
FINE 'REDUCED'

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio—Judge Robert B. Nevin in Municipal Court here yesterday told two men arrested on numbers charges that because he had received threatening telephone calls, he would not fine them so heavily.

Ordinarily Timothy James, 30, and Steve Papas, 25, would have been fined $500 and costs each. But Judge Nevin said his latest anonymous caller threatened to shoot him in the back if he went on with his "heavy fines."

So, instead of the $500, Judge Nevin fined the two men only $499.98 and costs.

New Violence Reported in Phone Dispute

PORSCHE, Ohio—Four installations of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. were stoned late Thursday night in another outburst of violence and vandalism in the tense five-week-old strike.

All available police in Portsmouth and nearby New Boston were called out to disperse a group of 200 to 300 participating in the demonstration. Portsmouth Police Chief Hugh Ruddy, who gave the estimate of the number involved, said mostly teenagers were in the group that stoned manual exchanges at New Boston and Sciotoville and the company offices and an automatic exchange at Portsmouth. Damage in broken windows was estimated at $200.

The company immediately closed the New Boston and Sciotoville exchanges.

A spokesman for the striking Communications Workers of America denied that union members were responsible.

Ruddy said gunshots were fired through the windows and a tire of a maintenance truck belonging to the General Telephone Co. of Ohio, parent company in the system to which Consolidated belongs.

No one was in the truck parked outside a motel here, said the police chief.

Police escorted two girls from the New Boston and two from the Sciotoville exchange. Supervisory personnel have been manning several exchanges of the company in parts of 24 southern and eastern Ohio while some 600 employees are on strike.

Police were assigned to guard the company installations.

Ruddy said the New Boston exchange, about four miles east of here, was stoned at about 10 p. m. Broken bricks and rocks were used, he said.

From New Boston, the "hoodlums" went to Sciotoville, about six miles from New Boston, then to Portsmouth, said the police chief.

When police appeared, members of the group ran through the alleys, jumped into cars and escaped. No arrests were made, Ruddy added, but he indicated the train was en route from Findlay to Toledo. Three box cars, each loaded with 1,800 bushels of wheat, overturned, partially spilling the contents. The remaining cars stayed upright.

6 Freight Cars Jump Tracks

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio—A broken journal derailed six cars of a 14-car New York Central Railroad freight train just north of nearby Galaten last night. No one was injured.

The train was en route from Findlay to Toledo. Three box cars, each loaded with 1,800 bushels of wheat, overturned, partially spilling the contents. The remaining cars stayed upright.

Judge Threatened; Fine 'Reduced'

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Judge Robert B. Nevin in Municipal Court here yesterday told two men arrested on numbers charges that, because he had received threatening telephone calls, he would not fine them so heavily.

Ordinarily Timothy James, 30, and Steve Papas, 75, would have been fined $500 and costs each. But Judge Nevin said his latest anonymous caller threatened to shoot him in the back if he went on with his "heavy fines."

So, instead of the $500, Judge Nevin fined the two men only $499.98 and costs.

New Violence Reported in Phone Dispute

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Four installations of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. were stoned late Thursday night in another outburst of violence and vandalism in the tense five-week-old strike.

All available police in Portsmouth and nearby New Boston were called out to disperse a group of 200 to 300 participating in the demonstration. Portsmouth Police Chief Hugh Rudity, who gave the estimate of the number involved, said mostly teen-agers were in the group that stoned manual exchanges at New Boston and Sciotoville and the company offices and an automatic exchange at Portsmouth. Damage in broken windows was estimated at $200.

The company immediately closed the New Boston and Sciotoville exchanges. A spokesman for the striking Communications Workers of America denied that union members were responsible.

Rudity said gunshots were fired through the windows and a tire of a maintenance truck belonging to the General Telephone Co. of Ohio, parent company in the system to which Consolidated belongs.

No one was in the truck parked outside a motel here, said the police chief.

Police escorted two girls from the New Boston and two from the Sciotoville exchange. Supervisory personnel have been manning several exchanges of the company in parts of 24 southern and eastern Ohio while some 600 employees are on strike.

Policemen were assigned to guard the company installations.

Rudity said the New Boston exchange, about four miles east of here, was stoned at about 10 p.m. Broken bricks and rocks were used, he said.

From New Boston, the "hoodlums" went to Sciotoville, about six miles from New Boston, then to Portsmouth, said the police chief.

When police appeared, members of the group ran through the alleys, jumped into cars and escaped. No arrests were made, Rudity added, but he indicated the train was en route from Findlay to Toledo. Three box cars, each loaded with 1,800 bushels of wheat, overturned, partially spilling the contents. The remaining cars stayed upright.

Exchanges at Brilliant, Dillonville, Mount Pleasant, Tiltonsville and Smithfield were shut down four days later when the company said it feared violence.

Judge Greisinger's injunction limits the number of pickets at ports of entry to three and forbids interference with supervisors and other workers entering and leaving.

Commissioners Told of Need For Hospitalizing TB Patients

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners and other commissioners throughout Ohio are being counseled by Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, state health director, that all tuberculosis patients in this and other counties of the state, should receive some period of hospital care rather than having total treatment in the home.

Dr. Dwork, in the County Commissioners Assn. Ohio Newsletter, says: "It is imperative that TB patients be taken out of their homes to avoid infection of their

Urbana Hatchery Pheasant Output Reaches 54,000

Pheasant production at the Urbana game farm during 1956 showed a substantial increase over last year according to a report from the Game Management Section.

Total production during the year amounted to 54,000 birds, 12,000 of which will be used as brood stock and in-season releases in 1956 and for use at field trials. Some 15,000 six-week old birds have been released on state-owned areas with an additional 16,000 eight to ten-week old birds released on open lands where adequate food and cover are available.

Sportsmen's organizations, taking advantage of the Division's 50-50 pheasant program, received in excess of 11,000 six-week old birds. Approximately 35 clubs in 38 counties built 39 rearing pens and furnished food for these pheasants until they were able to fly out and fledge for themselves.

According to game management biologists, 8½ to 9 week old birds can fly from pens and it is then they begin to develop food habits. It has also been found that by permitting these birds to fly out when they are able and ready, the survival and harvest have more than doubled.

Anticipating even greater participation in the 50-50 pheasant program by sportsmen's clubs in 1957, the Ohio Wildlife Council at its August meeting gave approval to expanding facilities at the Urbana game farm. The installation of new incubators will increase production from the present 54,000 to approximately 95,000 birds.

Ohio Labor Group To 'Get Out Vote'

CINCINNATI (AP)—The 731 delegates to the 71st convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor have been told to "get out the vote" in the November general election.

Phil Hannah, secretary-treasurer and head of the federation's legislative committee, said:

"We can create legislation aimed at aiding labor until we are dizzy, but it will avail us nothing unless we elect people who will enact the purpose of such resolutions."

Man, 84, Shoots Cincy Detective

CINCINNATI (AP)—James Hilliard, 84, shot a detective in the shoulder yesterday, saying he mistook him for a prowler who had entered his room.

The detective, John Greene, 38, who was only slightly wounded, was searching for a man involved in a shooting at a cafe.

Hilliard, who said he obtained a pistol some time ago as a protection against prowlers, would not believe Greene and other officers were policemen and it took a tear gas shell to bring him out.

National Magazine Relates Story of Pennington Drive

The successful Chamber of Commerce financial drive to save the Pennington Bakery for Washington C. H. is the subject of an article in the Aug. 13 issue of Bakers Weekly, nationally circulated trade magazine.

The article explains the C. of C. offer of $50,000 in financial assistance to the Pennington firm after the local plant was destroyed by fire June 9, and the company's decision to rebuild on an even larger scale.

In a letter to Morgan B. Pennington, president of the corporation, Arthur T. Joyce, national affairs editor of Bakers Weekly, said:

"There's a refreshing warmth in what has happened down in Washington C. H. that we don't get in many news stories nowadays."

2 Women Closest to Adlai Known as 'Buffie' and Nancy

CHICAGO — The women close to Adlai Stevenson are two — a dignified, graying sister called "Buffie" and a 21-year-old daughter-in-law, Nancy.

Nancy, short-haired blonde wife of Adlai Stevenson, Jr., expects a baby in early November. It will be the former Illinois governor's first grandchild.

Both Nancy and Mrs. Elizabeth "Buffie" Ives are here, ready, they said, to do anything they could to help the booming Stevenson campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Should the man she calls "Guv" get to the White House, Nancy said in an interview she and young "Ad," 24, wouldn't move in with him — "We want our own house, even if it's a tiny apartment."

Mrs. Ives, 59, said she would serve as official hostess at the White House if her brother asked her, but the decision was up to him.

Mrs. Ives was Stevenson's official hostess when he was governor of Illinois and after he and Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson were divorced in 1949.

Mrs. Ives is the wife of a retired career diplomat, Ernest Ives and has had extensive experience in entertaining. Before her husband retired in 1939, the two lived

It is pointed out that improper sidewalks which could result in injury, might cost the owner a great deal more in damages than the cost of building new walks.

DURING the recent week, receipts in the state were half a million dollars in excess of the same period in 1955. Sales for the recent week reached $4,274,376. State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy reported.

The actual amount of increase was $562,577, which represents a gain of 15.15 per cent over the revenues of $3,711,799 for the week ended Aug. 6, 1955.

This marks the first week in the current fiscal year which started last July 1 in which the weekly sales tax collections have exceeded four million dollars.

Tracy said that the cumulative grand total revenues for the current fiscal year, which include prepaid tax receipts, use tax and other collections, stood at $20,611,677 on Aug. 4, 1956.

Last year, for the corresponding period which ended Aug. 6, 1955, the over-all revenues amounted to $21,668,503.

Fayette County Alone in Area In Sales Gain

During the week ending Aug. 4, Fayette County was the only one of seven counties in this immediate area showing an increase in sales of prepaid tax receipts over the same week a year ago.

The figures for the recent week were $8,542,31 compared with $7,930,53 for the corresponding week in 1955.

The latest figures brought to $36,795,70 total sales since July 1 compared with $41,204,65 for the same period a year ago.

Many of the other counties have been running behind for the period since July 1. These include Clinton, Greene, Highland, Madison and Ross Counties.

No August Drought in Sight; Most County Streams Flowing

As result of rainfall somewhat above normal, Fayette County streams, which frequently dry up late in July or in August, are still flowing, with indications that they will continue to do so without interruption if rainfall continues near normal during the next two or three months.

Pasture lands and lawns also show the effects of the rainfall, and are still green, instead of being brown and parched as frequently as is the case during years because of scanty rainfall in late summer and early fall.

Apparently this is a year when normal rainfall, or even above normal, may be expected throughout the year.

The water table, while down somewhat, is not causing any dry wells to date, so far as known, and farmers feel fortunate that the supply of water is continuing and may continue indefinitely without being reduced by a falling table.

THE BIG reservoir which supplies Washington C. H. with water, and is being used for the first time this year, is being kept well filled, so that should several months of drought occur, the city's abundant water supply will not be hampered in any way.

Many of the other counties have been running behind for the period since July 1. These include Clinton, Greene, Highland, Madison and Ross Counties.

DURING the recent week, receipts in the state were half a million dollars in excess of the same period in 1955. Sales for the recent week reached $4,274,376, State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy reported.

The actual amount of increase was $562,577, which represents a gain of 15.15 per cent over the revenues of $3,711,799 for the week ended Aug. 6, 1955.

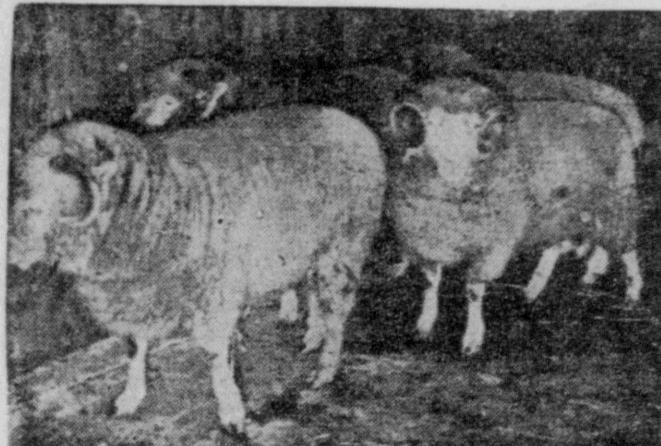

This marks the first week in the current fiscal year which started last July 1 in which the weekly sales tax collections have exceeded four million dollars.

Tracy said that the cumulative grand total revenues for the current fiscal year, which include prepaid tax receipts, use tax and other collections, stood at $20,611,677 on Aug. 4, 1956.

Last year, for the corresponding period which ended Aug. 6, 1955, the over-all revenues amounted to $21,868,503.

Double Alarm But Only Small Fire

WILLIAMSPORT — It took some persistence but city firemen did find out that where there's smoke there's fire.

They were called to the same location within three hours but on the first trip could find nothing. Receiving another complaint of smoke filling a downtown hotel, they rushed to the spot and finally found a small blaze in a sealed one-foot space between two buildings. Fire Chief Harold E. Kinley said the cause was either a cigarette or the sun.

No August Drought in Sight; Most County Streams Flowing

As result of rainfall somewhat above normal, Fayette County streams, which frequently dry up late in July or in August, are still flowing, with indications that they will continue to do so without interruption if rainfall continues near normal during the next two or three months.

Pasture lands and lawns also show the effects of the rainfall, and are still green, instead of being brown and parched as frequently as is the case during years because of scanty rainfall in late summer and early fall.

The water table, while down somewhat, is not causing any dry wells to date, so far as known, and farmers feel fortunate that the supply of water is continuing and may continue indefinitely without being reduced by a falling table.

THE BIG reservoir which supplies Washington C. H. with water, and is being used for the first time this year, is being kept well filled, so that should several months of drought occur, the city's abundant water supply will not be hampered in any way.

Apparently this is a year when normal rainfall, or even above normal, may be expected throughout the year.

As a result of abundance of water in the county's streams fish life is being slowly restored after having been dealt a heavy blow by a series of droughts.

Nixon Slated To Arrive for GOP Powwow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon arrives in Republican National Convention headquarters tomorrow in the midst of continued predictions by top GOP officials that he will be renominated by acclamation next week at the Cow Palace.

The convention opens Monday. Nomination of both presidential and vice presidential candidates is scheduled for Wednesday.

High Republican figures predicted again and again that Nixon as well as President Eisenhower would be renominated on Friday.

Harold E. Stassen, promoting Massachusetts Gov. Christian Herter to replace Nixon, had the rug pulled from under him again.

Herter said yesterday that if his name were placed in nomination he would ask the presiding officer to withdraw it. He is committed to nominating Nixon.

California's Gov. Goodwin Knight reported:

"I have no plans to seek the nomination."

However, Mrs. Mary Tibbets, Woodland newspaper publisher, said she plans to nominate him anyway. He has said he would take it.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The British today began a period of hopeful waiting to see whether EOKA extremists fulfill their suddenly announced bid in violence on the island of Cyprus.

Leaflets circulated by Greek Cypriot rebels last night proclaimed a "suspension of operations" of the underground's campaign of violence.

The "cease-fire" leaflet was signed by "the leader Digenis," generally accepted to be 58-year-old George Grivas, former Greek army colonel.

Since EOKA extremists launched their campaign for union with Greece in 1955, more than 150 persons have been killed. Of these, 51 were British servicemen and civilians. Most of the others were Greek Cypriots.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The semi-official Middle East News Agency said Israeli forces attacked Egyptian positions in the Gaza coastal strip today. No details were given.

ALGIERS (AP) — French military headquarters reported today that more than 100 Arab nationalist rebels had been wiped out in a series of operations in the Constantine area of eastern Algeria. The rebels meanwhile kept up harassing grenade and pistol attacks within the capital city.

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Babs killed at least 18 persons, police said, and swamped 223 small boats off Kyushu today, then threatened to strike again in northern Japan. Babs left ruined farms, houses, roads and railroads in the southern Japanese island of Kyushu.

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — West Germany today outlawed dancing at fairs.

Illinois Gets Over Million Back in Fraud

CHICAGO (AP) — The state of Illinois has recovered more than $1 million of state funds pocketed by Orville E. Hodge, ousted state auditor awaiting sentence after pleas of guilty to misappropriating state money.

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, in announcing the amount of restitution state official, predicted the state will "recover all the money" taken by Hodge.

The amount of restitution effects the length of Hodge's prison sentence as set in federal court Wednesday. Hodge, who pleaded guilty to charges of misappropriating more than $800,000 in funds of federally insured banks, was sentenced to 10 years, with the provision that made by the fun-loving Republican another 10 years could be added if he failed to make satisfactory restitution.

Hodge, weakened and depressed by his ordeal, is under guard in a hospital in Springfield. He is to appear in Sangamon County court Monday for sentencing on his plea of guilty to charges of taking $637,000 in state funds.

Hodge's federal prison sentence will run concurrently with whatever sentence he draws on the state charges.

Atty. Gen. Castle Thursday released a listing of various items representing $664,434 in Hodge assets. These have been turned over to the state as part of the restitution of more than $1 million.

Shortly after the discovery of Hodge's misdoings, Hodge returned $528,000 to the state. The two payments total $1,192,434.87.

The Communist party as unconstitutional.

Within minutes after the Federal Supreme Court announced its decision, police squads in major cities throughout the country swooped down on party headquarters. Property was confiscated and the offices padlocked. No arrests were ordered.

LONDON (AP) — Louis Satchmo Armstrong, the American jazz musician, has been invited to play with a symphony orchestra in the Royal Festival Hall in December, a London representative said today. Armstrong, who learned to play the trumpet in New Orleans waifs home, has tutored with a symphony orchestra only once before. That was in July with the New York Philharmonic.

Legion Auxiliary Makes Report on Welfare Projects

CLOSE TO $800 in welfare gifts showed up on the past year's ledger of the Rehabilitation and Child Welfare units of American Legion Auxiliary Post No. 25, according to report made to Mrs. Arthur L. Heroltzheim, post president.

Temperatures were in the 90s during the night in parts of the hot belt in Kansas and Oklahoma after daytime readings of above 100 degrees.

Showers and a little cool air brought a measure of relief in extreme northwest Kansas yesterday. But other parts of the state and most of the area through the Lower Mississippi Valley sweltered. Top marks included 110 at Salina, Kan., and 107 at Fort Worth.

Temperatures were in the 80s in the East and Southeast, and more of the same was the outlook today. Some cooling was reported in the Great Lakes region and Upper Mississippi Valley.

Fair weather with temperatures around normal, prevailed in most sections west of the Rockies.

Scattered thundershowers fell in the Central Plains westward to the Rockies. Heaviest rainfall was 1.54 inches at Imperial, Neb.

More rain was in store during the day in the Rockies and Plains region and along the Gulf. The have originated in France in 1936.

Rockets Spray Area as Drone Goes Berserk

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP) — A pilotless target plane slipped its electronic leash yesterday and, for more than two hours, played tag at 30,000 feet with rocket-firing Air Force jets that tried unsuccessfully to shoot it down.

The drone, a F6F Hellcat of World War II carrier fame, finally ended its last, high fling when it ran out of gas and crashed in a field 11 miles east of here. The 208 rockets fired at it, however, were blamed for a dozen fires and pelted the communities of New Hall, Palmdale and Saugus.

One rocket, said Larry Kempton, slammed into the pavement and exploded only a few feet from his station wagon a mile and a half east of Palmdale. Kempton, of nearby Leona Valley, and his mother, Mrs. Bernice Kempton, escaped injury from windshield glass, shattered by fragments which also blew out both front tires.

Two duds were found, one near a school and the U. S. Forestry Service blamed the .75-inch rockets for a rash of fires. One, near Mt. Gleason, had swept 300 acres by nightfall.

Radio control with the prop-driven drone was lost almost immediately after it took off from Pt. Mugu Naval Missile Test Station on the seacoast west of here. Two F89D fighters were immediately dispatched from Oxnard Air Force Base in an effort to shoot it down.

The Rehabilitation unit spent $322.50 during June, 1955 through June 1956 most of which went to the men at Chillicothe Veterans Hospital in the form of monthly ward patients, cigarettes, candy and Christmas gifts.

The Child Welfare unit spent $476.37 on a diverse number of projects. Upwards of $178 went to the unit's adopted family of nine children and invalid parents for food, clothing, coal and other essentials. Money also went for Thanksgiving baskets for 21 children, to the Legion basketball team, to the Legion's Christmas party and the Legion-sponsored circus in May.

Both units gave money to various fund-raising drives carried on in Washington C. H.

Lower Great Plains region westward to Iowa and Nebraska also was in the shower belt as cool air moved southward in that area.

Genie Nominates Self for Reds

Predicts Jeff to Beat Hillsboro Here

Fenton, the Record-Herald's baseball predicting genie, came into the office yesterday, looking far from his old self.

He walked to the sports desk and said: "How are you today?" His voice was solemn, almost somber.

The sports editor looked up, a little taken aback. Such was not at all like Fenton.

"What's up?"

"Oh . . . nothing. Here's the baseball predictions." He started to walk away.

"Now just a minute, just a minute," the sports editor said. "You can't get away that easily. What is up?"

"Well . . ." said Fenton, looking at the floor and scuffing his feet, "I'm getting another job."

The light of undaunted joy which came to the sports editor's eyes was a beautiful sight to behold. But Fenton didn't see it. "Aw come on, tell us boy, what are you doing?"

"Well . . ." Fenton started fumbling for words. "You know who the Cincinnati Redlegs are?"

The sports ed nearly punched him.

"And you know that they're not doing too well."

The sports ed nearly punched him again.

"Well . . ." I heard Birdie Tebbets say that the only way he could get a pitcher was by rubbing a magic lantern. . . . he brightened. "Since I'm a genie, I decided to apply." He was smiling now.

The sports editor did punch him then, and he did it so hard that we don't think we'll be seeing him again.

Mantle's Pace Too Slow To Catch Babe

NEW YORK (P)—Is Mickey Mantle hitting home runs fast enough to break Babe Ruth's mark of 60?

The answer is no. Mickey is going to have to step up his pace even though he is 11 games ahead of Ruth's schedule the year the Babe got his record 60 circuit belts.

The Yankee centerfielder, with 42 homers in 114 games, has averaged one every 2.71 games ahead of Ruth's record of 2.57 games in his record year (60 in 154 games).

It took the Babe 125 games and until Aug. 28 to reach the same mark Mantle has made in only 114 games on this Aug. 17.

But Ruth, starting on Sept. 2, hit 17 home runs in 29 days, better than one circuit smash every other game—a record no other player has matched.

It was this stretch-running finish that has blasted the hopes of all major league home run hitters to outstrip the record 60 the Babe set up.

Maybe Mickey can do it—who can say? But if he keeps up his present pace he will fall short, just as Jimmy Foxx did when he hit 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenberg did when he got a like number in 1938. Both Foxx and Greenberg got far out in front of the Babe's mid-season mark but couldn't come close to matching his phenomenal September finish.

"Well . . ." Fenton started fumbling for words. "You know who the Cincinnati Redlegs are?"

The sports ed nearly punched him.

"And you know that they're not doing too well."

Then Jack Phillips singled in another tally.

A walk and Al Kaline's double in the sixth plated a third Detroit run, and in the seventh a walk and singles by Bob Kennedy and Kaline made it 5-4 with two on when Wynn came in.

Nitrogen solutions for direct application to the soil came into prominence following the war. Mantle's Pace Too Slow To Catch Babe

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle hitting home runs fast enough to break Babe Ruth's mark of 60?

The answer is no. Mickey is going to have to step up his pace even though he is 11 games ahead of Ruth's schedule the year the Babe got his record 60 circuit belts.

The Yankee centerfielder, with 42 homers in 114 games, has averaged one every 2.71 games but Ruth got one every 2.57 games in his record year (60 in 154 games).

It took the Babe 125 games and until Aug. 28 to reach the same mark Mantle has made in only 114 games on this Aug. 17.

But Ruth, starting on Sept. 2, hit 17 home runs in 29 days, better than one circuit smash every other game—a record no other player has matched.

It was this stretch-running finish that has blasted the hopes of all major league home run hitters to outstrip the record 60 the Babe set up.

Maybe Mickey can do it—who can say? But if he keeps up his present pace he will fall short, just as Jimmy Foxx did when he hit 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenberg did when he got a like number in 1938. Both Foxx and Greenberg got far out in front of the Babe's mid-season mark but couldn't come close to matching his phenomenal September finish.

Rams Said Favored To Trip Redskins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams and the Washington Redskins, both strong on defense but high scoring minded, too, clash tonight in a National Football League exhibition game expected to draw 80,000 or more to the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The annual battle of these teams shows a 6-4 record in favor of the Rams and they have a 9-point edge to win with the oddsmakers. Last year, thanks to Eddie LeBaron's four touchdown passes, the Redskins upset the local apple cart, 31-29.

INFORMATION

43,560 Sq. Ft. Make One (1) Acre. 200 gallons of Liquid Fertilizer one ton.

WHAT ARE LIQUID FERTILIZERS?

LICCO FERTILIZERS are the result of combinations of various chemicals to form liquid fertilizer of comparable analyses to dry fertilizer. For example, 100 pounds of LICCO Liquid Fertilizer 8-8-8 (approximately 10 gallons) has the same quantity of nitrogen, phosphate and potash as 100 pounds of 8-8-8 fertilizer bought in a bag. In short, liquid fertilizers are merely a change in physical form of the plant nutrients from the dry form to the liquid form.

WHAT CAN BE EXPECTED FROM LIQUID FERTILIZERS?

Liquid fertilizer provides you with quick acting nitrogen, with 100% water soluble phosphate and with potash to fit your soil and crop requirements. Once within the plant the individual plant nutrients can be expected to affect plant growth similarly whether supplied in the soil in liquid or solid form. It is believed that the 100% solubility of the nutrients in the liquid fertilizer provides an environment for more rapid uptake by plants.

ADVANTAGES OF LIQUID FERTILIZERS

- (1) Results from the west show that drill bands of liquid fertilizers are taken up by plants under dry weather conditions without either rain or irrigation.
- (2) Every drop of liquid fertilizer is of the same complete composition of plant nutrients. It is not a mixture. It flows freely. There is no problem of "clumping" or "bridging" or separation by particle size.
- (3) Liquid fertilizer has practically no physical handling requirements. Normal practices with dry form fertilizers require the physical handling by the farmer of each bag up to 4 times before the fertilizer is on the ground. Liquid products can be moved by pump, gravity or air pressure whether of tank car volume or only tank volume. Lifting by the farmer of the fertilizer is not required from time of purchase to actual application. Time saved in handling again is of economic consideration in addition to the elimination of energy consuming labor.
- (4) LICCO Liquid Fertilizer Solutions are competitive in price with fertilizer in similar analyses in dry form.

APPLICATION

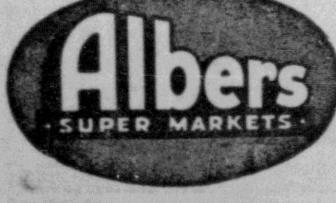

Various methods of application can be employed with liquid fertilizers. They are adapted to some of the present farm equipment and they lend themselves well to methods and equipment devised by farmer ingenuity. For complete field coverage, spray equipment can be used with or without spray nozzles. The liquid fertilizer may be spread from skid tanks mounted on trucks using pipe booms and making use of gravity pressure. Various trailer rigs and wagons can also be employed. Dribble methods of gravity are practical as are the use of pressure equipment or other power driven pumps.

LICCO Fertilizers are easily adapted for starter solutions with a planted crop. Corn planters require little or no modification to enable liquid fertilizer to be placed beside the seed in the row. Gravity flow or pressure systems are used.

Lew Burdette May Be Top Shutout Hurler

Braves' Right-Hander Accused by Cardinals Of Pitching 'Spitter'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lew Burdette, with or without an illegal "spitter" stands a chance of becoming the National League best shutout pitcher in 14 years while figuring as one of the big guys in Milwaukee's battle for the pennant.

The 29-year-old right-hander, who had only seven shutouts in his five-year major league career before this season, added his sixth of the campaign with a neat five-hit, 8-0 victory Thursday night over the St. Louis Cardinals—who by the way, lead the claim that the stuff Burdette throws isn't always dry.

"Criminy," says Card Manager Fred Hutchinson, "you can sit on the bench and see him load 'em."

With his six shutouts, Burdette—who denies the "spitter" charges—is the first NL right-hander to throw that many in one season since the Phils' Robin Roberts did it to lead the league in 1951. The 10 Mort Cooper hung up for the Cards in 1942 hasn't been touched since, and no NL pitcher has counted seven shutouts in one year since Harry Brecheen, another Card, in 1948.

Thursday night's job gave Burdette 15 victories and a league-leading earned run average of 2.53. The Cincinnati Redlegs slipped to third place with a 4-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs that allowed Brooklyn to regain second place with a 13-inning 10-9 victory over the New York Giants.

Pittsburgh made it two in a row over Philadelphia, 4-1.

In the American, Boston's Wilard Nixon, riding a no-hitter for seven innings, two-hit the New York Yankees for a 2-1 decision. That trimmed the Yanks' lead to 9½ games as runner-up Cleveland beat Detroit 5-4. Chicago's White Sox defeated Kansas City 6-5 in the only other game scheduled.

Three of the hits off Burdette, who didn't walk a man, were by Stan Musial—one a double that gave The Man the NL extra-bases hit record with 1,071, one more than Mel Ott managed in 22 seasons. The Braves iced it with five runs in the first inning to beat Wilmer Mizell.

Duke Snider's 33rd home run—his first off a southpaw this season—broke up a 4-hour, 48-minute battle for the Dodgers. It came on a 3-2 pitch by Lefty Dick Littlefield, sixth Giant pitcher. Hank Thompson and Willie Mays each had three-run homers. Thompson's pinch-hit swing tied it in the sixth. Don Drysdale, 10th hurler used in the 33-hit game, was the winner.

Sam Jones fanned 13, high for one game in the NL this season, while knocking off the Redlegs on a seven-hitter. Solly Drake's second RBI double broke a 2-all tie in the seventh.

Two-run homers by Bill Virdon and Bill Mazeroski won for the Pirates and Vern Law, who tossed a six-hitter. Robin Roberts lost it.

Yogi Berra's eighth-inning single broke up Nixon's no-hitter, and the veteran right-hander then hung on for his third victory over the Yankees this season as they scored on two errors and a pinch single by Mickey McDermott in the ninth. Jackie Jensen's 16th homer put it away for the Red Sox, who got just four hits off loser Don Larsen.

Rocky Colavito smacked his first major league grand-slammer and Al Rosen poled a solo shot to beat the Tigers for Her Score's 13th victory.

Minnie Minoso's seventh-inning triple scored the winning run as the White Sox swept the three-game set with the A's.

Seals' Crouse Bumps Near-Perfect Game

When they passed out hard luck, pitcher Carl Snyder of the Bloomingburg Lions must have gone through the line twice.

Snyder pitched almost perfect baseball against the Insurance Assn. Seals at the City Park Thursday night—one of the best hurling jobs of the season.

He lost.

Though he gave up only one hit in seven innings, and though he walked—purposely—just one man, and though he allowed only four Seals to get on base, the option ended up a 1-0 victory.

The villain of this heart-rending story, it seems, is Seals catcher Gilbert Crouse—a boy who can steal everything but the umpire's eyeshadow.

In the top of the fifth inning, Crouse got himself on base—a practically impossible feat, the way Snyder was pitching. He stole second. He got moved down to third.

And suddenly, before Snyder had a chance to find out what happened, the snappy little catcher stole home, spoiling Snyder's master piece and probably his evening, as well.

Ronnie Wilt, who pitched for the winners, gave up five hits to Snyder's one, but they were well-spaced—only one to an inning.

Kimball Hurls Cubs Into Win over Jets

Behind the two-hitter pitching of Gary Kimball, the Sunshine Cubs beat the Coca-Cola Jets, 14-1, in Little Major League play at Wilson Field Thursday evening.

The defeat seriously damaged the Jets' chances of taking over first place from the Record-Herald Flashes between now and the end of the season.

For the Cubs, long hampered by more than their share of bad luck, it was the first victory in seven starts. They made it a thumping one, scoring in every inning but the third.

Kimball, whose pitching has been the Cubs' salvation more than once this season, added an extra feather to his cap in the game by showing out three runs and four hits.

Ronnie Jones scored the only Jets run in the bottom of the sixth on three walks and an error.

Lew Burdette May Be Top Shutout Hurler

Braves' Right-Hander
Accused by Cardinals
Of Pitching 'Spitter'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lew Burdette, with or without an illegal "spitter" stands a chance of becoming the National League best shutout pitcher in 14 years while figuring as one of the big guys in Milwaukee's battle for the pennant.

The 29-year-old right-hander, who had only seven shutouts in his five-year major league career before this season, added his sixth of the campaign with a neat five-hit, 8-0 victory Thursday night over the St. Louis Cardinals—who by the way, lead the claim that the stuff Burdette throws isn't always dry.

"Criminy," says Card Manager Fred Hutchinson, "you can sit on the bench and see him load 'em."

With his six shutouts, Burdette—who denies the "spitter" charges—is the first NL right-hander to throw that many in one season since the Phils' Robin Roberts did it to lead the league in 1951. The 10 Mort Cooper hung up for the Cards in 1942 hasn't been touched since, and no NL pitcher has counted seven shutouts in one year since Harry Brecheen, another Card, in 1948.

Thursday night's job gave Burdette 15 victories and a league-leading earned run average of 2.53.

The Cincinnati Redlegs slipped to third place with a 4-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs that allowed Brooklyn to regain second place with a 13-inning 10-9 victory over the New York Giants.

Pittsburgh made it two in a row over Philadelphia, 4-1.

In the American, Boston's Willard Nixon, riding a no-hitter for seven innings, two-hit the New York Yankees for a 2-1 decision. That trimmed the Yanks' lead to 9½ games as runner-up Cleveland beat Detroit 5-4. Chicago's White Sox defeated Kansas City 6-5 in the only other game scheduled.

Three of the hits off Burdette, who didn't walk a man, were by Stan Musial—one a double that gave The Man the NL extra-bases hit record with 1,071, one more than Mel Ott managed in 22 seasons. The Braves iced it with five runs in the first inning to beat Wilmer Mizell.

Duke Snider's 33rd home run—his first off a southpaw this season—broke up a 4-hour, 48-minute battle for the Dodgers. It came on a 3-2 pitch by Lefty Dick Littlefield, sixth Giant pitcher. Hank Thompson and Willie Mays each had three-run homers. Thompson's pinch-hit swing tied it in the sixth. Don Drysdale, 10th hurler used in the 33-hit game, was the winner.

Sam Jones fanned 13, high for one game in the NL this season, while knocking off the Redlegs on a seven-hitter. Solly Drake's second RBI double broke a 2-all tie in the seventh.

Two-run homers by Bill Virdon and Bill Mazeroski won for the Pirates and Vernon Law, who tossed a six-hitter. Robin Roberts lost it.

Yogi Berra's eighth-inning single broke up Nixon's no-hit bid, and the veteran right-hander then hung on for his third victory over the Yankees this season as they scored on two errors and a pinch single by Mickey McDermott in the ninth. Jackie Jensen's 16th homer put it away for the Red Sox, who got just four hits off loser Don Larsen.

Rocky Colavito smacked his first major league grand-slammer and Al Rosen poled a solo shot to beat the Tigers for Herb Score's 13th victory.

Minnie Minoso's seventh-inning triple scored the winning run as the White Sox swept the three-game set with the A's.

Seals' Crouse Bumps Near-Perfect Game

When they passed out hard luck, pitcher Carl Snyder of the Bloomington Lions must have gone through the line twice.

Snyder pitched almost perfect baseball against the Insurance Assn. Seals at the City Park Thursday night— one of the best hurling jobs of the season.

He lost.

Though he gave up only one hit in seven innings, and though he walked—purposely—just one man, and though he allowed only four Seals to get on base, the opposition eked out a 1-0 victory.

Kimball, whose pitching has been the Cubs' salvation more than once this season, added an extra feather to his cap in the game by showing out three runs and four hits.

Ronnie Jones scored the only Jets run in the bottom of the sixth on three walks and an error.

Election Boards Getting '56 Data

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dewey Blackwell, 6, and brother Wayne, 4, were "digging for gold" in an unpaved strip between the street and their home in suburban Hialeah.

Mother, Mrs. C. D. Blackwell, left them alone because it kept them occupied and happy and soon their toy shovels had produced a respectable hole about three feet deep.

Then they struck, not gold but copper. In the form of a cable. Phone service was knocked out for blocks around and the boys immediately became former prospectors.

Office, non-partisan, and questions and issues ballots were prescribed. Brown said the letters went out earlier than required by law so that absent voter ballots might be mailed to members of the armed forces in plenty of time.

Brown said he will not prescribe the form of presidential ballots until Aug. 28 after both the Republican and Democratic national conventions are concluded.

Smallest hooved animal in the world is believed to be the five-pound mouse deer of the East Indies.

Name Delegates
To 4-H Congress*Full Slate Ready For September Event

Some of the top leaders in the county's crop of 4-H club members are looking forward today to the Ohio 4-H Club Congress Sept. 15-19, in Columbus.

A slate of seven delegates and five alternates was announced today by the County Extension Service.

In addition, three 4-H advisors have been selected to attend the 4-H club advisors Conference being held in Columbus at the same time.

Club members selected for the congress are Jo Reiff, Carolyn Crago, Barbara Kneisley, Joann Bonham, Roger Sollars, Dave Whiteside and Larry Roush. Alternates are Jackie Hopkes, Marilyn Writsel, Marty Christopherson, Mike Wagner and Stan Smith.

Advisors selected to accompany them are Mrs. Grove Davis, Mrs. Lloyd Moberly and Bob Highfield.

Members were selected on the basis of the outstanding job they have done over the past years in 4-H work, Phil Grover, associate county agent, said. Each delegate to the congress represents over 100 club members in his or her area.

"THIS IS quite an achievement and these club members selected have reason to feel honored," Grover said.

"Improving Family and Community Living," is the theme of this year's congress. Program will consist of discussions, forums, speakers, tours, recreation and the like.

A mock legislative session of the Ohio House of Representatives will be a highlight of the conference. Issue for the mock session will be a bill to authorize the State of Ohio to create a study commission on education beyond the high school level, to determine the need for and make recommendations on an upward extension of high school or establishment of junior colleges.

Another feature will be the banquet session on Tuesday when Dr. Novice Fawcett, new president of Ohio State University, will address the group.

Change in Tactics

(Continued from Page One) record we think is vulnerable on the farm problem, on Dixon-Yates, on the so-called giveaway programs by the Interior Department, on scandals of its own, on confusion and drift in foreign policy and with Nixon considered a handicap in light of Ike's condition.

"All these things give us a reasonable assumption that we can win in November. It will require a switch of only some three million votes."

"This time we think the South will be almost solidly in the Democratic column. Since 1952 there have been nine new Democratic governors and over 500 new Democratic legislators. This means that in many states the Democratic party is a lot stronger."

While Stevenson made some changes in the pace and style of his campaigning, he didn't retrace on his political philosophy.

"Moderation is the spirit of the times," was the way he phrased it at a big party rally in Chicago last November.

Some of his fellow Democrats didn't agree—among them Harry Truman and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's only real rival.

But smashing majority of the convention showed that the delegates agreed.

400 at Elks Picnic

Approximately 400 attended the annual Elks stag picnic Thursday afternoon at the Fayette County Fairgrounds where they ate fried chicken and corn on the cob.

Revenue from tickets exceeded $800.

Doctors have used X-rays and a dye to show that unborn babies begin to breathe and swallow as early as the 12th week.

CourtsDIVORCE SOUGHT

Mary Frances Massie, a minor, through her father, John Phillips, High St., has instituted divorce proceedings against Harry W. Massie, who is now in England with the U. S. Air Force.

Mrs. Massie charges gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, and asks custody of their two children and alimony, as well as other relief.

DAMAGES SOUGHT

Harry W. Clark and The American Auto Insurance Co. of Columbus, have filed an action in common pleas court against Howard Runnels, of Bloomingburg, asking for $716.10 damages as result of a traffic accident on Route 35 near Gallipolis, Feb. 19, 1955.

The plaintiff claims he had stopped, waiting for a car to make a left turn in front of him, and the defendant's car crashed into the rear of his auto, causing heavy damage, and that the insurance company paid him $666.10 and this was $50 less than the real damage.

The insurance company asks for judgment in the amount of $896.10 and Clark for $50 not covered by insurance.

LOAN COMPANY SUES

The First Federal Savings and Loan Co., in a suit against Lorenda Johnson Henderson and Alfred C. Henderson, 1109 East Paint St., and The Economy Savings and Loan Co., and Montgomery Ward Co., asks judgment in the sum of $204.62, with interest, and foreclosure of a mortgage held on the Henderson property, to satisfy the claim.

The claim is based on a promissory note executed by the Hendersons. The other two defendants claim some lien on the property, and are asked to set up such claims.

Kefauver Seen

(Continued from Page One) solemn obligation to consider with the utmost care who will be their president if the elected president is prevented by higher will from serving his full term."

The Democratic nominee made no direct reference to Eisenhower's heart attack nor to his intestinal operation. But he added:

"It is a sober reminder that out of 34 presidents have served as a result of such an indirect selection (as vice president).

The responsibility of the presidency has grown so great that the nation's attention has become focused as never before on the office of the vice presidency. The choice of that office has become almost as important as the choice of the presidency."

He said that "historically the presidential candidate has often designated the nominee for vice president." He wasn't going to do that, Stevenson said, adding:

"I have decided that the selection of the vice presidential nominee should be made through the free processes of the convention."

Name Delegates To 4-H Congress

Full State Ready For September Event

Some of the top leaders in the county's crop of 4-H club members are looking forward today to the Ohio 4-H Club Congress Sept. 15-19, in Columbus.

A slate of seven delegates and five alternates was announced today by the County Extension Service.

In addition, three 4-H advisors have been selected to attend the 4-H club advisors Conference being held in Columbus at the same time.

Club members selected for the congress are Jo Reiff, Carolyn Crago, Barbara Kneisley, Joann Bonham, Roger Sollars, Dave Whiteside and Larry Roush. Alternates are Jackie Hoppes, Marilyn Writsel, Marty Christopherson, Mike Wagner and Stan Smith.

Advisors selected to accompany them are Mrs. Grove Davis, Mrs. Lloyd Moberly and Bob Highfield.

Members were selected on the basis of the outstanding job they have done over the past years in 4-H work, Phil Grover, associate county agent, said. Each delegate to the congress represents over 100 club members in his or her area.

"THIS IS quite an achievement and these club members selected have reason to feel honored," Grover said.

"Improving Family and Community Living," is the theme of this year's congress. Program will consist of discussions, forums, speakers, tours, recreation and the like.

A mock legislative session of the Ohio House of Representatives will be a highlight of the conference. Issue for the mock session will be "a bill to authorize the State of Ohio to create a study commission on education beyond the high school level, to determine the need for and make recommendations on, an upward extension of high school or establishment of junior colleges."

Another feature will be the banquet session on Tuesday when Dr. Novice Fawcett, new president of Ohio State University, will address the group.

Change in Tactics

(Continued from Page One) record we think is vulnerable on the farm problem, on Dixon-Yates, on the so-called giveaway programs by the Interior Department, on scandals of its own, on confusion and drift in foreign policy and with Nixon considered a handicap in light of Ike's condition.

"All these things give us a reasonable assumption that we can win in November. It will require a switch of only some three million votes."

"This time we think the South will be almost solidly in the Democratic column. Since 1952 there have been nine new Democratic governors and over 500 new Democratic legislators. This means that in many states the Democratic party is a lot stronger."

While Stevenson made some changes in the pace and style of his campaigning, he didn't retract on his political philosophy.

"Moderation is the spirit of the times," was the way he phrased it at a big party rally in Chicago last November.

Some of his fellow Democrats didn't agree—among them Harry Truman and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's only real rival.

But a smashing majority of the convention showed that the delegates agreed.

400 at Elks Picnic

Approximately 400 attended the annual Elks stag picnic Thursday afternoon at the Fayette County Fairgrounds where they ate fried chicken and corn on the cob.

Revenue from tickets exceeded $800.

Divorce Sought

Mary Frances Massie, a minor, through her father, John Phillips, High St., has instituted divorce proceedings against Harry W. Massie, who is now in England with the U. S. Air Force.

Mrs. Massie charges gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, and asks custody of their two children and alimony, as well as other relief.

Damages Sought

Harry W. Clark and The American Auto Insurance Co. of Columbus, have filed an action in common pleas court against Howard Rummels, of Bloomingburg, asking for $716.10 damages as result of a traffic accident on Route 35 near Gallipolis, Feb. 19, 1955.

The plaintiff claims he had stopped, waiting for a car to make a left turn in front of him, and the defendant's car crashed into the rear of his auto, causing heavy damage, and that the insurance company paid him $666.10 and this was $50 less than the real damage.

The insurance company asks for judgment in the amount of $666.10 and Clark for $50 not covered by insurance.

Loan Company Sues

The First Federal Savings and Loan Co., in a suit against Lorenda Johanna Henderson and Alfred C. Henderson, 1109 East Paint St., and The Economy Savings and Loan Co. and Montgomery Ward Co., asks judgment in the sum of $204.62, with interest, and foreclosure of a mortgage held on the Henderson property, to satisfy the claim. The claim is based on a promissory note executed by the Hendersons. The other two defendants claim some lien on the property, and are asked to set up such claims.

Kefauver Seen

(Continued from Page One) solemn obligation to consider with the utmost care who will be their president if the elected president is prevented by higher will from serving his full term."

The Democratic nominee made no direct reference to Eisenhower's heart attack nor to his intestinal operation. But he added:

"It is a sober reminder that out of 34 presidents have served as a result of such an indicated selection (as vice president).

"The responsibility of the presidency has grown so great that the nation's attention has become focused as never before on the office of the vice presidency. The choice of that office has become almost as important as the choice of the presidency."

Mr. Poe read from the Scriptures, offered prayer, delivered a sermon and read the hymns, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Pallbearers were Alva Mongold, Heber Burnette, Glenn Hamilton, Amos DeWitt, Robert Kessler and Roy Palmer. Burial was in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Bank Launches 'College Club'

The College Club—a new self-planned savings service designed to help parents avoid the burden of heavy cash outlay when it comes time to send their children to college—has been established at the First National Bank, according to J. Roush Burton, president.

The College Club, Burton said, offers a plan fitted to any family's income, started with whatever the family can afford and added to with any amount at any time. The account is established in the name of the child who receives a lapel emblem, membership card and personal bank book.

Burton said the plan was installed here because recent surveys show that the average college graduate earns 88 per cent more in a lifetime than the average high school student, and because an increasingly competitive economy and the trend toward specialization in job requirements are putting new emphasis on the need for higher education.

Gourley attempted to pass Lewis Clifford Chaffin, 25, of Orient, as Chaffin was making a left turn into the New Holland highway after giving a signal.

The collision occurred while the Gourley car was traveling some 50 miles an hour the accident report showed. Mrs. Chaffin, 24, was removed to Memorial Hospital in the Gerstner ambulance, suffering from concussion and shock. Deputy Sheriffs Don Thompson and Charles Hayes investigated the accident.

Both cars were badly damaged.
